(RE)CLAIMING LEISURE: RIGHTS, RESPONSIBILITIES & RESISTANCE

UNIVERSITY OF THE WEST of SCOTLAND
UWS

LEISURE STUDIES ASSOCIATION

PAISLEY 10-12 JULY

WELCOME

We are delighted to welcome you to the 2024 Leisure Studies Association Conference hosted by University of the West of Scotland on our Paisley Campus. The conference theme is (Re)claiming Leisure: Rights, Responsibilities, and Resistance and we have been delighted with the overwhelming response to our Call for Papers with over 200 submission and over 160 people from 30 different countries attending the conference.

Moreover, this year we welcomed submissions for artistic expressions, documentaries, and workshops making our programme exciting and diverse. This is also the first year the LSA conference accepted papers in different languages. Considering the multicultural background of the members of the organising committee we opened for submissions in the following languages: English, Italian, Spanish, Portuguese, Farsi, Nepali, Hindi. We are sure you will have many interesting papers to attend.

Our Organising Committee have worked hard to ensure that a good spread of topics are available each day and we have planned some exciting evening activities too. We hope you enjoy our excellent keynote panels that draw on the expertise of 9 speakers ranging from senior academics, early-career researchers, activists, policy makers, and community leaders to explore rights, responsibilities and resistance in tourism, events, and sport. We also have a dedicated Global Debate on the future of Publishing supported by five leisure learning societies (ANZALS, CALS, TALS, LSA, and WLO) proposed and chaired by Dr KangJae 'Jerry' Lee.

With panel discussions, PhD student expert advice sessions and industry panels, this year's international conference hopes to deliver an exciting diversity of presentations from around the world.

Our social event on Wednesday will start with a Civic Reception at the beautiful Paisley Abbey before moving to the vibrant environment of Shuttle Bar in Paisley for some food and music. On Thursday our conference dinner will be held in Glasgow at the Platform, including a showcase of Scottish culture through the entertainment of a traditional Scottish ceilidh band.

We would like to thank participants and presenters for attending this year's conference and appreciate that some of you have travelled from afar to visit our Country/City this 'summer'. The conference Organising Committee are here to welcome you and assist you with anything you need to ensure that you have a great time.

Best wishes,
Professor Sandro Carnicelli & Dr Chloe Maclean
Co-Chairs of the Organising Committee, LSA 2024

CAMPUS INFORMATION

The Leisure Studies Association conference will take place at UWS Paisley Campus, which is centrally located in the historic town of Paisley. Located just 10 minutes from Glasgow, the campus is easily accessible whether you are staying at our partner hotel, The Glynhill Hotel and Spa or at alternative accommodation in Paisley or Glasgow.

The Glynhill Hotel and Spa is located two miles from the Paisley campus. To walk from the hotel to campus will take approximately 45-55mins. Please check google maps for the best route to campus.

UWS Paisley Campus is located opposite Paisley Museum on the High Street. Registration for the conference will be located in the main reception area Brough Building (A block). Please note that some maps will take you directly to our library building rather than the main entrance. Rather than turning left down Storie Street, just continue straight along High Street and you can't miss us!

Coffee breaks, lunches, poster exhibitions and art installations will be located in the Chancellor's Hall in the Brough Building (A block).

Keynote lectures and panel sessions will take place in the McLean building (D block) and P building (P block). The conference will be well sign posted, with organisers and volunteers on hand to provide further assistance.

Wifi is available throughout the campus via Eduroam.

Water refill stations are located throughout the campus and we encourage delegates to bring their own water bottles where possible.

If you require food or drink outside of our scheduled breaks you can find the Atrium café located in the Brough Building (A block), serving hot/cold drinks and snacks from 8.30am - 4pm each day.

A number of indoor and outdoor quiet spaces can be found throughout the campus if you require some time out from the conference. Please ask any of the organisers or volunteers who can direct you to somewhere suitable.

Accessibility
Our campus is accessible, with the three buildings being used for the various sessions having ramp access and rooms being on one level. Accessible toilets are located in the McLean building (D block) and P building (P block). Car parking is available on campus for blue badge holders and can be booked in advance by emailing lsa2024@uws.ac.uk.

The venues being used for our social activities are also fully accessible.

We would ask that anyone with accessibility needs lets us know in advance so that we can ensure that you are provided with all of the information and any support that you need.

GLOBAL LEISURE DEBATE: FUTURE OF PUBLISHING AND KNOWLEDGE DISSEMINATION IN LEISURE

Chair: KangJae "Jerry" Lee, Ph.D.
Department of Parks, Recreation, & Tourism, University of Utah, Senior Associate Editor, Leisure Sciences

This session aims to identify major issues in leisure journal publication and discuss possible solutions. Peer-reviewed journal publication has long been the cornerstone of knowledge production in many academic disciplines, yet its fairness and sustainability have come under intense scrutiny (Petrescu & Krishen, 2022; Lariviére et al., 2015).

Each panellist will present their perspectives on the future of journal publication in the field of leisure studies. By sharing this with conference participants we hope to promote meaningful and productive discussions on what leisure scholars could or should do to address publication challenges.

KEYNOTE PANEL 3

Joanna Maranhao

Olympic Swimmer, Human Rights Campaigner & Network Coordinator for The Sport & Rights Alliance

Joanna Maranhão is a Brazilian Olympian, survivor, advocate and researcher. She holds a Master of Sports Ethics and Integrity from the University of Leuven in Belgium, and a Bachelor in Physical Education from Faculdade Maurício de Nassau in Brazil. As a professional swimmer, Joanna specialized in individual medley and distance events, participating in four Olympic Games and winning eight medals at the Pan American Games.

A survivor of sexual abuse in sport, Joanna is now an advocate for and researcher on athlete safeguarding, having just successfully defended her thesis on the prevalence of interpersonal violence among elite athletes in Brazil. Previously, Joanna led the campaign to expand Brazil's statutes of limitation to allow survivors of child sexual abuse more time to report and seek justice, succeeding in establishing a new law, which bears her name (Law Joanna Maranhão).

Currently, Joanna leads the Sport & Rights Alliance's scoping project for a Global Survivors Network — consulting athletes across the globe with lived experience of physical, sexual, and emotional abuse to assess their interest and need for an international network to facilitate greater exchange, advocacy and support for athlete survivors.

Robyn Smith

Brunel University, London

Robyn Smith is a social scientist with a background in sports sociology and migration studies. She is currently a lecturer in Sport, Health and Exercise Sciences at Brunel University London and a member of the editorial board of Annals of Leisure Research. Her research primarily focuses on the relationship between community sport, leisure, and well-being among young people from equity-owed communities. Robyn's research is embedded within social justice and she is passionate about working in collaboration with communities and using participatory approaches to co-create meaningful and useable knowledge which can foster social change.

Robyn has published widely on the ethical, methodological, and conceptual dimensions of participatory research and is co-editor of the forthcoming collection 'Participatory Research in Sport and Physical Activity'. Currently, her research seeks to explore the lived experiences and wellbeing of young people from migrant and refugee backgrounds in, and through, sport and leisure.
